Once you have shared the information about houses from around the world, why not have a go at making a model of a traditional Maasi home called Inkajijik. Remember not all people in Kenya live in houses like this, most live in a house or flat like you. Can you remember how the Maasai people built their homes?