

LO To write a story.

- I can describe key events using ambitious language.
- I understand what a paragraph is and can use this in my writing,
- I can use dates and historical vocabulary in my writing.

Here are my ideas, from last week. Now we are going to use these words to help us continue writing an amazing story...

Offer Help
running quickly choking smoke furnace dirty water heavy bucket splashing aching arms roasting fire scorching hot hurrying dripping wet dodging burning wood colossal fire people going crazy slippery cobblestones stressful heart beating fast soaking clothes shouting angrily exhausted hot as lava loud as gunfire

Remember to continue using the first person like we did when we wrote our diary entry.

Choose two or three more words then write them in sentences... continue this to make a paragraph that makes sense when it comes after your writing from yesterday...

At the River Thames

dodge rapidly sparks flying footsteps stomping devastated church bells ringing loudly glowing burning houses smokey fire crammed crushing crowd glimmering cracking beams rushing water wailing smelly streets crying frightenedly horrified begging pleadingly traumatised popping sparks shocked amazed people running quickly hopeless fish smell twinkling, flickering, sparks

Remember to continue using the first person like we did when we wrote our diary entry.

Choose two or three more words then write them in sentences... continue this to make a paragraph that makes sense when it comes next...

Stop when you have written about being at the River Thames.

My example...

dodge rushing dirty water cracking beams exhausted heavy bucket splashing terrified

hurrying

choking smoke

scorching hot

All of a sudden I was forced to dodge cracking beams falling loudly from scorching hot houses above me. Staggering, I bumped into an ancient man wearing a long, leather apron.

“Hey you!” he shouted, “Come over here and help me!” Terrified I passed a heavy bucket, splashing with dirty water hurriedly up the chain. There was choking smoke following me. After that I was exhausted from rushing to put out the fire.

barging traumatised screeching sadly crush of people clinking coins begging hopelessly sizzling sparks

barter
horrified

I followed the crush of people to the River Thames. Traumatized, I pushed through barging people begging for clinking coins. I was horrified to see people in the disgusting water trying to get away from the sizzling sparks. Hopelessly I tried to barter my way onto a boat but it was no use... the air was filled with people screeching sadly.

The Great Fire of London

Think! What could you see?

What could you hear?

What could you feel?

What could you smell?

Use your wonderful words to continue your story.
